

Call for Students, Academics, and Professionals to Join the Organizing and Scientific Committees of Robotex Cyprus

March 16, 2026

The Cyprus Computer Society \(CCS\) is organizing the Robotex Cyprus - The Pancyprian Robotics Competition, which has been held annually since 2017. This year's event will take place on the weekend of June 27 & 28 at the University of Cyprus Sports Center.

Robotex Cyprus is open to teams of school students, university students, and adults, and the winning teams will participate in Robotex International in Seoul, South Korea. The event is open and free to the public and to friends of educational robotics.

We invite you to participate as a volunteer on one or both days of this year's event, taking on roles and tasks briefly described below:

(A) In the Event's Scientific Committee

- Coordinator of a specific competition
- Judge/referee in one or more competitions
- Results recorder on the event's online platform
- Study, understand, and apply the rules governing the competition you will be assigned
- Participation in brief online informational meetings regarding the event's organizational progress.

(B) In the Event's Organizing Committee

- Staffing the registration points for event participants
- Operating the event management information system
- Supervising the technical inspection of the robots
- Participation in brief online informational meetings regarding the event's organizational progress.

What you will get!

- Participation in the largest and most innovative robotics event in Cyprus
- Networking opportunities with other individuals, students, and professionals in the fields of technology and information technology
- Issuance of a special certificate to enhance your resume
- Participation to a social event following the conclusion of the event and to other CCS events
- Participation in the event's awards ceremony and potential award in case of a positive vote from the volunteer network
- After three years of participation in the volunteers' network, an opportunity to apply for free participation in the trip organized to Robotex International.
